Subject: Shouldn't we just ignore Ye?

View email in browser

Dear Kevin,

Should we just ignore Ye (the rapper formerly known as Kanye West)?

Are we just adding oxygen to the voices of extremists like Ye, white supremacist Holocaust denier Nick Fuentes and others if we shine a spotlight on the danger when they spread antisemitic tropes and lies? ADL is speaking out as:

- Extremists sit down for dinner with a former President;
- QAnon, the Proud Boys and others come back out from the shadows after Elon Musk loosens the rules on Twitter;
- Ye makes an appearance on Alex Jones' conspiracy-spreading Infowars program to praise Hitler and the Nazis and to question the existence of the Holocaust. (For an explanation of Ye's latest idiocy, please watch this short CNN clip.)

Ring the alarm bells when there is a fire is not a mistake. It is urgently needed action. We must not passively stand by while those who spread flames of hate gain footholds in the mainstream.

On Twitter, Ye's antisemitic stereotypes and threats weren't enough to get him suspended, despite the violations of the platform's rules. It wasn't until Ye tweeted out a swastika in a Star of David that Musk finally decided to suspend him from the platform. I guess we know where Musk's line is now.

This isn't just about Ye, though. In fact, ADL just issued a report on how many extremist figures are taking advantage of the platform ever since Musk took over.

QAnon conspiracy theories, disinformation and events have returned to Twitter. Jason Kessler — an organizer of the deadly Unite the Right Rally in Charlottesville — has used his newly verified status to advocate for Klansman David Duke to return as well. The Proud Boys have opened Twitter accounts for their chapters in New York, Connecticut and Maine. (The Proud Boys are also among the groups behind the recent surge in anti-LGBTQ+ threats.)

We've also seen less action by Twitter to remove hateful tweets. ADL regularly reports antisemitic tweets to Twitter and keeps track of which posts are removed. Since Musk's takeover, Twitter has gone from taking action on 60 percent of the tweets ADL reported down to only 30 percent.

Twitter is not the only platform that is closing its eyes to hate. Amazon has declined to pull the deeply antisemitic and Holocaust-denying book and video Hebrews to Negroes from its platform. We encourage you to take a moment right now to add your voice to ours to help change their minds. Click here to email Amazon, using our advocacy platform, to tell them this is unacceptable.

We are not alone in this fight. President Biden tweeted a sharp counterpoint to Ye and other extremists: "The Holocaust happened. Hitler was a demonic figure. And instead of giving it a platform, our political leaders should be calling out and rejecting antisemitism wherever it hides. Silence is complicity.”

And after former President Trump’s recent meal with Ye and Fuentes, a number of high-profile Republicans spoke out as well. Former VP Pence said: “Trump was wrong to give a white nationalist, an antisemite and Holocaust denier a seat at the table.”

Both Biden and Pence make an important point. Silence emboldens hate. Giving extremists a seat at the table helps normalize antisemitism. It can put Jews in physical danger. We cannot stay silent.

We condemn these extremist outrages and call on political leaders, businesses, celebrities and individuals across the country to join us in rejecting these messengers of hate and relegate them to the dustbin of history where they belong.

Thank you for being part of the ADL community and for speaking out loud and clear against hate.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Greenblatt
CEO and National Director

THE WEEK'S BIG 3

The rapper Ye, formerly known as Kanye West, praised Adolf Hitler and Nazis in an interview Thursday with far-right provocateur Alex Jones, drawing a fresh round of condemnation for his incendiary antisemitism a week after he dined with former president Donald Trump alongside white supremacist Nick Fuentes. A jury on Tuesday found Stewart Rhodes, the founder of the far-right militia group Oath Keepers, guilty of seditious conspiracy for his actions in the lead-up to and day of the deadly Jan. 6 Capitol riot. The suspect accused of opening fire inside an LGBTQ bar in Colorado Springs, Colorado, has been praised by online extremists who have called for copycat attacks, according to a Department of Homeland Security bulletin made public Wednesday.

Read on for more on these headlines, news you can use to fight hate and the latest info about ADL from around the country.

Rapper Ye Draws Fresh Denunciation for Hitler Praise in Alex Jones Interview

“Ye, the rapper formerly known as Kanye West, went on an antisemitic rant during a Thursday appearance on conspiracy theorist Alex Jones’s Infowars program, including praise for Nazis and Adolf Hitler. “You’re not Hitler, you’re not a Nazi, you don’t deserve to be called that and demonized,” Jones told Ye, who was appearing on his program along with white nationalist Nick Fuentes, who made headlines when he accompanied Ye to a dinner at Mar-a-Lago with former President Trump last week.” The Hill: READ MORE

+ Jonathan Greenblatt Tweet: Saying you “like Hitler,” “love the Nazis,” and spending all your time with a white supremacist makes one thing clear: Ye is a vicious antisemite. His comments today on InfoWars are not just vile and offensive: they put Jews in danger.

Oath Keepers Leader Convicted of Sedition in Landmark Jan. 6 Case

“Stewart Rhodes, the leader of the far-right Oath Keepers militia, was convicted on Tuesday along with one of his subordinates of seditious conspiracy as a jury found them guilty of seeking to keep former President Donald J. Trump in power through an extensive plot that started after the 2020 election and culminated in the mob attack on the Capitol.” New York Times: LEARN MORE

Accused Colorado Springs Shooter Praised by Online Extremists Calling for Copycat Attacks: DHS

"The suspect accused of opening fire inside an LGBTQ bar in Colorado Springs, Colorado, has been praised by online extremists who have called for copycat attacks, according to a Department of Homeland Security bulletin made public Wednesday. "Following the late November shooting at an LGBTQI+ bar in Colorado Springs, Colorado -- which remains under investigation -- we have observed actors on forums known to post racially or ethnically motivated violent extremist content praising the alleged attacker, the latest National Terrorism Advisory System bulletin (NTAS), dated Nov. 30 say." ABC News: FULL STORY

KEY ADL SOCIAL STATEMENTS

- Since Elon Musk took over a few weeks ago, @Twitter has pursued several measures that have enabled a growing extremist presence on the platform, offering these figures a veneer of legitimacy and a microphone to spread their hate.

- Yet another one-sided UN resolution on Israel, further demonstrating a continued anti-Israel bias within the international body.
- ADL Israel: We strongly condemn MK Avi Maoz's homophobic remarks, including his description of the Jerusalem Pride Parade as "a promiscuous parade of abomination." This type of hateful rhetoric is unacceptable, especially coming from a Knesset member.

One Day of Warren Buffett Wealth Gains Could Cover Rail Workers' Paid Sick Leave

Billionaire Warren Buffett, one of the wealthiest men in the world and the CEO of BNSF Railway's parent company, saw his wealth jump by nearly $1.4 billion in a single day earlier this week, a sum that could easily fund 15 days of paid sick leave for every rail worker in the United States.

BNSF is one of the major railroad giants refusing to budge in contract negotiations with rail unions as they fight for 15 days of paid sick leave. Under a White House-brokered contract that major rail unions have recently voted to reject, rail workers would not receive a single paid sick day.

Milo Yiannopoulos claims he set up Fuentes dinner 'to make Trump's life miserable'

As fallout from Donald Trump's meeting with the white supremacist Nick Fuentes continues, a far-right activist has claimed the meeting was a set-up, meant to "make Trump's life miserable".

NBC News reported that in an attempt to "send a message" to the former president, Milo Yiannopoulos, a rightwing provocateur and former Breitbart editor, helped arrange for Fuentes to travel to Mar-a-Lago in Florida for a dinner between Trump and the rapper Ye, formerly known as Kanye West.
