Nikhel Sus
Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics of Washington
1101 K St., NW Suite 201
Washington, DC 20005

Dear Mr. Sus:

As we noted in our letter dated February 29, 2024, we are processing your request for material under the Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA”), 5 U.S.C. § 552. The Department of State (“Department”) has identified an additional 29 responsive records subject to the FOIA. Upon further review, we have determined that three records may be released in full and 26 records may be released in part.

An enclosure explains the FOIA exemptions and other grounds for withholding material. Where we have made redactions, the applicable FOIA exemptions are marked on each record. Where applicable, the Department has considered the foreseeable harm standard when reviewing these records and applying FOIA exemptions. All non-exempt material that is reasonably segregable from the exempt material has been released and is enclosed.

We will keep you informed as your case progresses. If you have any questions, your attorney may contact Assistant United States Attorney Benton Peterson at Benton.Peterson@usdoj.gov or (202) 252-2534. Please refer to the case number, FL-2020-00134, and the civil action number, 20-cv-02076, in all correspondence about this case.

Sincerely,

(b)(6)

OPTION #1.—

7 Each side with one at either end. WE CAN adjust the Secretary's side of the table so it appears less off balanced. We have done that before.

OPTION #2.—

8 on each side and NO one at either end. Appears more even on the Secretary's side and you are both more centered. BUT IT REQUIRES SPLITTING MR. AND MRS. NANCE AND THEY ARE ACROSS THE TABLE FROM ONE ANOTHER. (b)(6)

Other details

1, Electronic follow up to postal mailed invitation. Sean, yesterday you showed me a draft of this email follow up. I did not draft the email. I drafted invitation copy. Perhaps the email used invitation copy that was not used in the hard copy invitation? Regardless, I would like to have a copy of the final email follow up, so please send to me when you have a moment and I will hold to share with Mike.

--Attached

2, Dinner favors. Thank you for shepherding the pen favor for the dinners. You and I concur that using the dinner logo will be best (albeit still small) on a clip emblem.

--Proposals are coming in now and we are screening/reviewing; will forward on Monday a rendering for approval.

3, Dinner printed program. Next week, could someone let me see even a rough draft of the dinner program that would include: menu, dinner guest list, re-stated historical "back story" of the evolution of these Madison Dinners? ((b)(6)) to lead?)

--Will have a mock-up for you to review by COB Monday...

4, Artifact historical information. I've asked ((b)(6)) to provide me with brief historical information on artifacts that would be particularly germane to these Madison Dinners. I will talk about one artifact—as a good way to quiet the group and ask them to move from the Monroe Room to the Madison Room for dinner. ((b)(6)) to provide to me NLT next week.)

--No action for Protocol

5, Guest entrance/exit routes. We are thinking that guests for the dinners could be brought up to the 8th floor via "core three" elevators so that they have a chance to walk thru the magnificent diplomatic rooms on their way to cocktails. The guests would depart via the closer-to-the-Madison-Room elevators (core one?). Make sure to you?

--Yes, we will take them up core three and we can take them out core 2 or let them walk back to core 3 to see the rooms one more time

--Of note, we will greet and escort each guest from the C st curb and back out.

6, Guest parking. Who is working with DS to determine how best to accommodate our guests regarding parking? Do I need to do anything here?

--We will coordinate parking with guests and DS for those who need it (most likely will be dropped off)

7, Art/Museum VIP tour card for guests. We want to provide each guest (I'm thinking underneath or slipped into menu program) with an invitation to come back with family or colleagues to the Department of State for a "VIP" tour of the diplomatic rooms and a blurb about the U.S. Diplomacy Center, with the same offer. We should provide a name and telephone number on this printed card for each (I'm hoping (b)(6)'s name for the diplomatic rooms and (b)(6)'s for the diplomacy center.) ((b)(6) to make this happen. Susan needs to see draft next week.)

--We can help design the "ticket" if needed.

8, Menu for cocktail time and dinner/Signature seasonal cocktail for the dinners/food item that reflects or dates back to Dolley's social events. Need to see menu and all next week with enough time to run by Mike via telephone. ((b)(6))

--Recommended menu below (will be incorporated into mock up turned in on Monday)

Passed Hors d'oeuvres
Crisp Tempura-Fried Green Beans with Smoked Pepper

Aioli
Lemony Ricotta Crostini with Shaved Fennel & Radish

Dinner
Romaine Hearts Salad
Heirloom Cherry Tomatoes, Fried Capers
Torn Garlic Croutons, Shaved Parmesan
Caesar Dressing

Grilled Filet of Beef Tenderloin
Roasted Baby Carrots & Shallots

Aged Cheddar-Potato Gratin
Whiskey Peppercorn Sauce

Warm Chocolate Pudding Cake
Buttered Almond Ice Cream

--Working signature cocktail

9, Music. We have music questions still pending: pianist in Monroe Room or will that be too loud? Do we have the capability for piped in music in both the Monroe Room and the Madison Room? (b)(6) [redacted]—need answers by next week)

--The pianist would need to be in the BFR, not the Monroe
Would recommend strings or a harp as we can put in Monroe and it will not be too loud or distracting (this is precedent)
Music can be “piped in” via a Bluetooth speaker (via iphone).
Would need to discuss music selections of course.

Importance: High

Lisa and Sean,

I have reached a wall—and Mike and I don't want to cancel the launch of the Madison dinners for another month. I cannot get a list of suggested foreign guest names for our July kick off dinners. The invitations are being put in the mail this week. Yesterday, was our self imposed deadline to give Mike a list of foreign guest names to choose from for the July 17 dinner, but another hurdle was thrown out last night—so I am coming straight to you two. I feel confident that we can get this done.

Sean, I understand from (b)(6) that you are reluctant to provide any names as you don't want to step on toes. My thought in asking you for names of Ambassadors that we might consider is that you know a good many of them thru your leadership of "Experience America." I thought you could provide names of a dozen Ambassadors that would be lively additions to a dinner party such as the Madison Dinners and provide interesting conversation and insights for our guests. Possible?

Lisa, everyone seems to be running every time I ask about foreign diplomats who might attend a Madison Dinner. This could be a foreign diplomat who has a scheduled OFFICIAL trip to the U.S. (we want nothing to do with any private trips for doctor's appointments or anything else—just a look see at Mike's calendar for those who might be already scheduled to visit the week of a Madison dinner) OR a foreign diplomat who, if invited in advance, might make a trip in to join us for a Madison Dinner. I understand that Sean has suggested that Lisa could contact all our bureau heads about the dinners and generate names that way. The guidance that Mike provided is as follows:

*We don't want interpreters at the dinners, so the guest must speak enough English to participate in the conversation.

*It doesn't matter if a spouse or guest is with the individual. Singles are just fine. It's also fine if a foreign diplomat wants to bring along their Ambassador to the U.S. Fine. Fine. Fine.

*Mike hopes that someone will use some creative thinking—who has a big event or holiday coming up in their country? How about an important new humanitarian or economic development initiative? Mike could ask the foreign diplomat guest to take five minutes during the dinner and share with everyone.

Mike and I both think that the foreign guests at these Madison dinners have the potential to add real richness to the conversation and evening, if a little creativity is at play on the planning end. Otherwise, Mike and I will just pluck names and plug them in, which won't be nearly as effective.

The initial guest list (obviously, we may have regrets and other guests will be slid into the regretting guests places) for the launch of the Madison Dinners in July:

Ms. Norah O'Donnell and her husband, (Chef) Geoff Tracy Mr. Chuck and Karen Ghoorah Secretary Steven and Louise (Linton) Mnuchin Senator John and Sandy Cornyn Mr. LT Tosi and guest Foreign Ambassador/Minister.

Appreciate your thoughts and assistance, as always,

Susan

Subject: Madison Dinners Foreign Invitees--HELP!

Importance: High

Lisa and Sean,

I have reached a wall—and Mike and I don't want to cancel the launch of the Madison dinners for another month. I cannot get a list of suggested foreign guest names for our July kick off dinners. The invitations are being put in the mail this week. Yesterday, was our self imposed deadline to give Mike a list of foreign guest names to choose from for the July 17 dinner, but another hurdle was thrown out last night—so I am coming straight to you two. I feel confident that we can get this done.

Sean, I understand from (b)(6) that you are reluctant to provide any names as you don't want to step on toes. My thought in asking you for names of Ambassadors that we might consider is that you know a good many of them thru your leadership of "Experience America." I thought you could provide names of a dozen Ambassadors that would be lively additions to a dinner party such as the Madison Dinners and provide interesting conversation and insights for our guests. Possible?

Lisa, everyone seems to be running every time I ask about foreign diplomats who might attend a Madison Dinner. This could be a foreign diplomat who has a scheduled OFFICIAL trip to the U.S. (we want nothing to do with any private trips for doctor's appointments or anything else—just a look see at Mike's calendar for those who might be already scheduled to visit the week of a Madison dinner) OR a foreign diplomat who, if invited in advance, might make a trip in to join us for a Madison Dinner. I understand that Sean has suggested that Lisa could contact all our bureau heads about the dinners and generate names that way. The guidance that Mike provided is as follows:

*We don't want interpreters at the dinners, so the guest must speak enough English to participate in the conversation.

*It doesn't matter if a spouse or guest is with the individual. Singles are just fine. It's also fine if a foreign diplomat wants to bring along their Ambassador to the U.S. Fine. Fine. Fine.

*Mike hopes that someone will use some creative thinking—who has a big event or holiday coming up in their country? How about an important new humanitarian or economic development initiative? Mike could ask the foreign diplomat guest to take five minutes during the dinner and share with everyone.

Mike and I both think that the foreign guests at these Madison dinners have the potential to add real richness to the conversation and evening, if a little creativity is at play on the planning end. Otherwise, Mike and I will just pluck names and plug them in, which won't be nearly as effective.

The initial guest list (obviously, we may have regrets and other guests will be slid into the regretting guests places) for the launch of the Madison Dinners in July:

Ms. Norah O'Donnell and her husband, (Chef) Geoff Tracy Mr. Chuck and Karen Ghoorah Secretary Steven and

Louise (Linton) Mnuchin Senator John and Sandy Cornyn Mr. LT Tosi and guest Foreign Ambassador/Minister.

Appreciate your thoughts and assistance, as always,

Susan

(b)(6) and (b)(6)

Know we need to get our favors for the Madison Dinners ordered or we're going to get jammed. Assume that the gifts staff in protocol has some good USA pen makers that you could contact?

As we discussed, it would be great to use the round "Madison Dinners" brand (that I sent a couple revisions to you for, this morning). Because it's round, it doesn't lend itself to being engraved/printed on the barrel of a pen, but it could be a full color emblem on a pen clip (see Cross pens) or on the head of a pen that has a larger, flat, round end...if you can picture that. (b)(6) will need to provide artwork and PMS color numbers so we can order.

Could someone in protocol send some ideas to me and we'll make some decisions and try to order before the weekend?

Thanks,

Susan

All,

Big thanks from Mike and me for your continued efforts to make our Madison Dinners such a success. The feedback we've had is superlative and we are already seeing connections and relationships form that wouldn't have, but for these dinners.

I met with Mike today regarding our early fall dinners. Here is feedback for your action:

Madison Dinner Spreadsheets.

1, Please freeze the headers so that they appear, as the user scrolls down thru the list.

2, On the "master" list, please show the Madison Dinner dates to which each guest has been invited. ie: in the case of the McMillons (who I believe have been invited to three dinners now), please show that—perhaps in the far left hand column? Need it easy to spot.

3, Add the year to the Dinner guest list tabs. If you have to abbreviate the month to do so, that is perfectly fine.

September 13 Madison Dinner.

1, Regret. Andrew and Clare Parker have regretted to Mike and me personally. I will visit with them to see if we can secure a date that works. They have a wedding conflict and very much want to join us.

2, Issue Invitations. Please issue invitations (ASAP!) to: Brian & Julie Carbaugh (Mike has contacted Brian and they are "in!"), Emmet & Ariel Vannier Flood, Bud & Jonda "Jonny" McFarlane, Tom & Margot Pritzker. Please see their contact information at the end of this email.

3, Foreign Guest. Mike says "enough already" with (b)(6) Mike says (b)(6) great, too. Just feel that we see more of those two.
(b)(6)

September 18 Madison Dinner.

1, Foreign Guest. Mike says an enthusiastic "yes" to inviting (b)(6) if he's available.

October 9 Madison Dinner.

1, Foreign Guest. Take a pass on (b)(6) an Ambassador.
(b)(6)

December 10 Madison Dinner.

1, Foreign Guest. Mike says we should definitely plan to invite the (b)(6) We may end up inviting another Ambassador, too, but Mike wants to extend this invitation—as you suggested—(b)(6)

2, Dinner favors. Thank you for shepherding the pen favor for the dinners. You and I concur that using the dinner logo will be best (albeit still small) on a clip emblem.

3, Dinner printed program. Next week, could someone let me see even a rough draft of the dinner program that would include: menu, dinner guest list, re-stated historical "back story" of the evolution of these Madison Dinners? (b)(6) to lead?)

4, Artifact historical information. I've asked (b)(6) to provide me with brief historical information on artifacts that would be particularly germane to these Madison Dinners. I will talk about one artifact—as a good way to quiet the group and ask them to move from the Monroe Room to the Madison Room for dinner. ((b)(6) to provide to me NLT next week.)

5, Guest entrance/exit routes. We are thinking that guests for the dinners could be brought up to the 8th floor via "core three" elevators so that they have a chance to walk thru the magnificent diplomatic rooms on their way to cocktails. The guests would depart via the closer-to-the-Madison-Room elevators (core one?). Make sure to you?

6, Guest parking. Who is working with DS to determine how best to accommodate our guests regarding parking? Do I need to do anything here?

7, Art/Museum VIP tour card for guests. We want to provide each guest (I'm thinking underneath or slipped into menu program) with an invitation to come back with family or colleagues to the Department of State for a "VIP" tour of the diplomatic rooms and a blurb about the U.S. Diplomacy Center, with the same offer. We should provide a name and telephone number on this printed card for each (I'm hoping (b)(6) name for the diplomatic rooms and (b)(6) s for the diplomacy center.) (b)(6) to make this happen. Susan needs to see draft next week.)

8, Menu for cocktail time and dinner/Signature seasonal cocktail for the dinners/food item that reflects or dates back to Dolley's social events. Need to see menu and all next week with enough time to run by Mike via telephone. (b)(6)

9, Music. We have music questions still pending: pianist in Monroe Room or will that be too loud? Do we have the capability for piped in music in both the Monroe Room and the Madison Room? (b)(6)—need answers by next week)

(b)(6) FYI, we again scrutinized the menu etc. and believe we should OMIT the quotations around Kansas Tumbleweed as not necessary and too much. (Not necessary for a specialty cocktail and we have not done so for the gin cocktail.)

But feel we should KEEP the ones around "Freddy's Frozen Custard". Will send you a new version but we are just waiting on the Egyptians to confirm how we have listed their names.

I also pinged the Ambassador's office for any current bio...keep asking. Thank you.

Greetings!

A few updates and action items from our end for Tuesday evening’s Madison Dinner:

#1, Timeline. Mike has requested that we tighten our schedule by 15 minutes, so that the dinner has disbursed no later than 8:15pm. I think that we could easily be seated for dinner by 6:50pm and adjourned by 8:10pm. (b)(6) you will need to push up our walk on the balcony and group photo to see that we are seated by 6:45/6:50pm.

#2, Post-Dinner. Following dinner, Mike wants the Redlers to join us in his inner office to visit about a couple items. (b)(6) would you please be sure that we have wine (wine opener & glasses!), water and Diet Coke available in Mike’s side kitchen, so I can offer refreshments?

#3, Menu. I didn’t notice any food/dessert item with Freddy’s Frozen Custard on our dinner menu AND as I didn’t hear from anyone after sending the email (forwarded below)—I wanted to be sure that someone had made contact with Scott. It could be that the Chef’s team and Scott decided against working together on Kansas Tumbleweeds using Scott’s custard or some other addition to dessert, but everyone was excited about I when we talked, so I’m just checking?!!

#4, Seating. Mike changed the seating as outlined below (starting with Secretary Pompeo and moving to his right):

Secretary Pompeo

Ryan Lance

Lisa Lance

Betsy Redler

Scott Redler (end of table, by window)

Nahla Reda
Amb. Reda
Kimberly Schraf
Craig Wallace
Susan Pompeo
FM Shoukry
Suzy Shoukry
Sen. Santorum (end of table, by hallway entrance)
Karen Santorum
Pam Thiessen
Marc Thiessen.

Should be a great evening. Thank you,

Susan

Recently, I met with (b)(6) and (b)(6) regarding our Madison Dinners and informed them that Scott kindly offered to bring frozen custard (in any variety of forms!) to our March 26 Madison Dinner. I shared with (b)(6) and (b)(6) that Scott is co-founder and COO of Freddy's Frozen Custard & Steakburgers (founded in our hometown, Wichita, KS!) and knows the Pompeos' LOVE his frozen custard. As I explained, one of our favorite treats is a Kansas Tumbleweed made with Scott's frozen custard. (Which would be an awfully great complement to any dessert!) BUT, I'll let you far more brilliant food minds conclude what works. I appreciate (b)(6) and (b)(6) enthusiastically welcoming Scott (and his frozen custard) and can't wait to see what you all concoct for March 26.

Please let me know if you need my assistance with any details. I'm ready to assist!

Mrs. Pompeo

Please forgive my delay in responding. I had back to back meetings this morning and wanted to confirm with the team on the details.

1. Totally understand regarding photographer. I recommend we plan on doing a group photo in the Monroe room in front of the fire place.
2. Each guest has been reached regarding arrivals. Most have drivers and all will be allowed to park on C street per our negotiations with DS. A protocol officer will greet each guest and escort them to the 8th floor for arrival. The same officer will escort each guest out at the end of the evening and will provide them with the information packet.
3. We are working up a diagram for you regarding the seating and should have to you this afternoon.
4. The most formal way to address the Ambassador is "Your Excellency" BUT saying Ambassador is also appropriate.

He most likely will ask you to call him by his first name. I am typing on my Phone so I need to look that up and get back to you.

Please let me know if you have any other questions or concerns.

Best

Cam and (b)(6)

I talked with Mike last night about several items that we discussed on Friday. I sent a separate email regarding the confidentiality and process of Dinner guest lists and the potential guest list. Here are other comments, to wrap up:

#1, Photos. Mike thinks having a photographer snapping candid during our cocktail hour would be intrusive and that a dinner table shot wouldn't be a great one. He suggested that about 6:50pm, when I am sharing the "artifact" information and we are getting ready to move the group into the Madison Room—that we organize a group photo. This can be in either room—(b)(6) wherever you think is best. So, just that one shot. Sending it to them later is great.

#2, Hosts. We both assume that communication has/is taking place with each couple to provide detailed entrance information. As well, we assume someone will be on tap to greet each guest and escort them up to the 8th floor. And, at the end of the evening, someone will give each guest the folder of information and escort them back to do their vehicle.

#3, Seating Arrangement.

If the ends of the Madison Room table will comfortably accommodate two people, here is the seating, approved by Mike:

Facing side of table, farthest from Monroe Room (l to r):

Ambassador Spouse—Mr. Ambassador—Susan Pompeo—John Cornyn—Sandy Cornyn

Side of table, closest to Monroe Room (l to r):

End of Table, closest to the doors:

Linda McMahon (closest to Geoff)—Joe Dunford

End of Table, farthest from the doors:

Marillyn Hewson (closest to LT)—James Hewson.

IF the ends will not comfortably accommodate two people:

1. Slide James over on the side, beside Sandy Cornyn. That will leave Marillyn Hewson at the end of the table.

and

2. Slide Linda over on the side, beside Geoff Tracy. That will leave Joe Dunford at the end of the table, closest to the doors.

Holler if this doesn't make sense.

Finally, Cam. Would you please send me the formal way to address the Ambassador and his wife and, what their more familiar (first name?) greeting would be?

Thank you,

Susan

It was a great evening. We started later to accommodate Rep. Scalise's scheduled close of votes, but the votes extended and so ended up waiting a bit longer than we'd hoped. The Ambassador was lovely and seemed genuinely happy to be celebrating "carnivale"—if only in tremendously mild form, compared to Buenos Aires. As we were being seated for dinner, he asked me to put on one of our masks and take a photo with him, so he could send to his daughter (he thought she would be surprised that he, too, was celebrating). Steve Scalise joined us in the photo! Then, Steve introduced his security chief whose actions saved Steve's life and that of many others on that baseball diamond. Turns out that this hero is Brazilian—and had been honored by the Ambassador for his actions that day. So, we had a lovely, albeit brief, reunion with this officer before dinner!

G'day ma'am –

Sorry for late reply, have been in meetings and events...

Place setting set up

Copy. I actually like the journals a lot. Did you want to continue to gift those even after the personalized pens come in? They are only $9 each.

*Food, beverages, service

Copy. Very happy to hear that.

Music.

Yes, she was wonderful – we'll have her setup in Monroe next time. Of note, if you want to thank her, would recommend you do that on that front end as she will leave when dinner starts as we have the piped in music.

Pre-dinner location

We have had many post-dinner discussions on this amongst the team and frankly we were all tracking the drinks in the TJ and not Monroe. I have no valid explanation on why we were not on the same page as you and I apologize. Regardless, we will certainly move it to the Monroe and I apologize if that soured your mood at the beginning of the last dinner.

Seating

We will forward a draft seating chart this afternoon for approval (with guests on ends)

Comments in Reception

Completely defer to you... although I'd like to suggest a short run through/review of the setup that night prior to ensure you are happy with everything. I hope your schedule would allow. For the State Lunch, we had worked with (b)(6) to pre-position some applicable items. This is totally in her realm but perhaps they could identify some specific Madison items or even further their collection for this purpose.

July 26 Dinner

This afternoon you will receive for approval:

- Seating Chart
- Menu (full program to follow on Monday)

- Diagram with flow of guests
- Updated Invite Spreadsheet

September Dinner

As you know, a lot of guests who were not available in July were pushed to September so about half of the guests have been contacted. Currently we do not have any Foreign Ministers in town but as I previously mentioned, we won't have a good gauge on that until closer to the time. Did you want me to hold or recommend members of the Diplomatic Corps? We will reach out to the other guests today to determine availability.

Question for you

For the arrival of the guests, we'll plan to greet as before, and escort through the reception rooms and then take to you and the Secretary in the Monroe. I won't do formal introductions.

Subject: July 26 Madison Dinner

Good Morning, Sean—

I know with the Ministerial next week, your team will be running every which way, so I'm hoping that we could perhaps put to bed all arrangements for next week's Madison Dinner today?

Place setting set up (program, pen, journal), the flowers, everything on the table looked perfect. At Tuesday's dinner, I did exactly what I did at CIA dinners and that was to take a natural lull in the dinner conversation to draw everyone's attention to the invitation for VIP tours and to begin the signing of the menus. (That's why I'd prefer not to have to have a "timed" announcement!) It worked beautifully.

Food, beverages, service—all spectacular. We went into the kitchen and told everyone!

Music. Harpist—extraordinaire and I'm sorry that I didn't get over there to say thanks. Piped in music in the dinner room ideal.

*Mike and I both were surprised when we arrived that the pre-dinner location and set up was completely different than we had discussed in every one of our planning meetings. I don't know how that happened, but after the dinner, I asked Mike his preferences—and he would like to try what we had been planning in advance: that the harpist (selected because I was told a pianist would be too loud in the Monroe Room) and the bar/servers be in the Monroe Room and all guests gather there. Mike really felt like the Jefferson was way too large for such a small group. Could we go back to our original plan of gathering in the Monroe Room? Was there a reason or emergency that compelled the last minute change?

Reception Introductions. I told Mike that you were at the ready to make introductions. Neither one of us were expecting that and I felt badly that perhaps we had breeched a protocol red line! Mike and I are both comfortable welcoming everyone on our own UNLESS you feel that we should do it differently? Please advise.

*My understanding is that the dinner table can be downsized? If that's correct, Mike would like to have someone seated on the ends, even if the group shrinks (as it did for this week's dinner). I told him that I approved the revised seating (with no one at the ends). Here is his thought process. The persons who sit on the end of a table side—have only one person to talk with (the person seated next to them), if there is no one seated on the end. And, the table is wide enough that it is uncomfortable for a less-bold guest to exert conversation across the table. So, let's keep seating someone on the ends regardless of group size and Mike can tell us if he thinks, with a smaller group, if he feels differently.

Comments in Reception, pre-photo. I will continue to make comments as we wrap up in the reception. I scrambled a bit because I think the Madison porcelain cup/saucer had moved (or, I wrongly remembered where it was). I will probably point that piece out until I bore myself. If you think that there is anything else that I should say or mention at that point—tell me.

July 26 Dinner attendance and seating—could we have that today? That way, I can get it in front of Mike this weekend. (b)(6) will provide bios ASAP.

The evening was how we envisioned it. Everyone was congenial, happy to be there and brought different experiences to the conversation. Please let me know if you have recommendations for changes or modifications other than the above.

Big thanks to your team for helping us get this Madison Dinner Series off the ground. Mike asked me last night if the invitations are out for the September dinners.

Warmly,

Susan

Subject: July 26 Madison Dinner

Good Morning, Sean—

I know with the Ministerial next week, your team will be running every which way, so I'm hoping that we could perhaps put to bed all arrangements for next week's Madison Dinner today?

Place setting set up (program, pen, journal), the flowers, everything on the table looked perfect. At Tuesday's dinner, I did exactly what I did at CIA dinners and that was to take a natural lull in the dinner conversation to draw everyone's attention to the invitation for VIP tours and to begin the signing of the menus. (That's why I'd prefer not to have to have a "timed" announcement!) It worked beautifully.

Food, beverages, service—all spectacular. We went into the kitchen and told everyone!

Music. Harpist—extraordinaire and I'm sorry that I didn't get over there to say thanks. Piped in music in the dinner room ideal.

*Mike and I both were surprised when we arrived that the pre-dinner location and set up was completely different than we had discussed in every one of our planning meetings. I don't know how that happened, but after the dinner, I asked Mike his preferences—and he would like to try what we had been planning in advance: that the harpist (selected because I was told a pianist would be too loud in the Monroe Room) and the bar/servers be in the Monroe Room and all guests gather there. Mike really felt like the Jefferson was way too large for such a small group. Could we go back to our original plan of gathering in the Monroe Room? Was there a reason or emergency that compelled the last minute change?

Reception Introductions. I told Mike that you were at the ready to make introductions. Neither one of us were expecting that and I felt badly that perhaps we had breeched a protocol red line! Mike and I are both comfortable welcoming everyone on our own UNLESS you feel that we should do it differently? Please advise.

*My understanding is that the dinner table can be downsized? If that's correct, Mike would like to have someone seated on the ends, even if the group shrinks (as it did for this week's dinner). I told him that I approved the revised seating (with no one at the ends). Here is his thought process. The persons who sit on the end of a table side—have only one person to talk with (the person seated next to them), if there is no one seated on the end. And, the table is wide enough that it is uncomfortable for a less-bold guest to exert conversation across the table. So, let's keep seating someone on the ends regardless of group size and Mike can tell us if he thinks, with a smaller group, if he feels differently.

Comments in Reception, pre-photo. I will continue to make comments as we wrap up in the reception. I scrambled a bit because I think the Madison porcelain cup/saucer had moved (or, I wrongly remembered where it was). I will probably point that piece out until I bore myself. Sean and Lisa,

I'm writing to ask for your input again on our upcoming Madison Dinners in terms of potential visiting foreign ministers or locally assigned Ambassadors (or others, as you might brainstorm!).

Mike mentioned that we have dozens of his foreign counterparts in town for this week's Ministerial—and a Madison Dinner being held this week, so help us by thinking of events such as this, bringing foreign visitors in who might not otherwise be available, scheduled near to our Madison Dinner dates.

The dates of upcoming Madison Dinners (for which we are already issuing the invitations, as our guests are busy and schedule up in advance):

- September 13
- September 18
- October 9
- October 22.

Mike wants to set the November dates—and possibly a December date (once we have a better idea of the December calendar) very soon.

Thank you for your brainpower in helping us pull together interesting and interested groups of guests!

Warmly,
Susan

Greetings,

Wednesday's May 15 Madison Dinner needs to be rescheduled for potential . Mike and I identified June 12 or June 19 as potential dates to move it. Sean/scheduling: are there any conflicts with rescheduling it to either of these dates? Is one better than the other? Sean, we think it best if, when notifying guest of the rescheduling—that we have a date to provide to them.

June 11th—we have been invited to a dinner honoring Jenny and John Paulson hosted by Amb & Mrs. Salem Al-Sabah (Kuwait). Mike and I would like to attend and don't see a conflict. Please RSVP and get on our calendars asap.

May 16—Business Council Spring Meeting where Mike is doing a "Fireside Chat" with Maria Bartiromo—I am not going to attend.

Mike has asked me to schedule a dinner and given me the dates of June 21 or June 22. Please place a hold on those evenings. When I confirm I'll provide details.

Susan,

1. I shared the feedback about music volume and more assertive beverage service. I can also check in with you during course change in case there is something I can handle real time.
2. (b)(6) has asked for guidance from you and Mike as to additional potential guests you would like invited to the Jan. 7 Madison Dinner.

Currently the following are confirmed:

Mike/Susan Pompeo

Craig Wallace/Kimberly Schraf

She, of course, has the Master List and the list of previous regrets who were interested in a future invite, but wanted guidance prior to proceeding.

3. I have provided a number of dates from MRP's Scheduling Team to Protocol to check against its calendar for date conflicts with the WH and others. As soon as I receive the acceptable options from them, I will send them to you for you and Mike to make a final decision. Unfortunately, the White House has not produced a schedule yet for 2019. Do you agree we should move forward with vetting our dates and getting them held on the calendar?

Please let me know your thoughts.

Thank you.

Yes. Just received your email

Just fyi—here is the note that I finally sent to Sean Lawler and Lisa today. I heard right back from Lisa. I am not dorking around any more in laborious meetings where deadlines are missed and no one seems to be able to find a way to get tasks across the finish line. It's a huge time suck. I will communicate directly with Sean in the future because it's clear that my full communications are not being relayed—and this is just silly. Too much work to be done.

I thought surely we could get a little dinner series off the ground without dragging Lisa into any major role, but I guess not. Hate it but everything goes back to the people who can actually get things done, I guess, right?

Lisa and Sean,

I have reached a wall—and Mike and I don't want to cancel the launch of the Madison dinners for another month. I cannot get a list of suggested foreign guest names for our July kick off dinners. The invitations are being put in the mail this week. Yesterday, was our self imposed deadline to give Mike a list of foreign guest names to choose from for the July 17 dinner, but another hurdle was thrown out last night—so I am coming straight to you two. I feel confident that we can get this done.

Sean, I understand from (b)(6) that you are reluctant to provide any names as you don't want to step on toes. My thought in asking you for names of Ambassadors that we might consider is that you know a good many of them thru your leadership of "Experience America." I thought you could provide names of a dozen Ambassadors that would be lively additions to a dinner party such as the Madison Dinners and provide interesting conversation and insights for our guests. Possible?

Lisa, everyone seems to be running every time I ask about foreign diplomats who might attend a Madison Dinner. This could be a foreign diplomat who has a scheduled OFFICIAL trip to the U.S. (we want nothing to do with any private trips for doctor's appointments or anything else—just a look see at Mike's calendar for those who might be already scheduled to visit the week of a Madison dinner) OR a foreign diplomat who, if invited in advance, might make a trip in to join us for a Madison Dinner. I understand that Sean has suggested that Lisa could contact all our bureau heads about the dinners and generate names that way. The guidance that Mike provided is as follows:

*We don't want interpreters at the dinners, so the guest must speak enough English to participate in the conversation.

*It doesn't matter if a spouse or guest is with the individual. Singles are just fine. It's also fine if a foreign diplomat wants to bring along their Ambassador to the U.S. Fine. Fine. Fine.

*Mike hopes that someone will use some creative thinking—who has a big event or holiday coming up in their country? How about an important new humanitarian or economic development initiative? Mike could ask the foreign diplomat guest to take five minutes during the dinner and share with everyone.

Mike and I both think that the foreign guests at these Madison dinners have the potential to add real richness to the conversation and evening, if a little creativity is at play on the planning end. Otherwise, Mike and I will just pluck names and plug them in, which won't be nearly as effective.

The initial guest list (obviously, we may have regrets and other guests will be slid into the regretting guests places) for the launch of the Madison Dinners in July:

Ms. Norah O'Donnell and her husband, (Chef) Geoff Tracy
Mr. Chuck and Karen Ghoorah
Secretary Steven and Louise (Linton) Mnuchin
Senator John and Sandy Cornyn
Mr. LT Tosi and guest
Foreign Ambassador/Minister.

Appreciate your thoughts and assistance, as always,

Susan

All,

Circling around to be sure word has traveled. As we're ten days out and no invites issued, Mike wants the March Madison Dinner cancelled. Mike and I will look at the calendar for April Madison Dinner replacement date (due to State Dinner conflict).

Mike would like for me to meet with the three of you about what he wants to the lead time for Madison Dinner invitations to be issued and how those guest lists may be more easily generated, at this point.

Unrelated note to Cam and Mary Kate, I'd like to have 15-20 minutes with you on gifts. Just the three of us. I believe that you may have a couple items to discuss with me?

Then, another 30 minutes, with the protocol gift leadership (and (b)(6) if you're interested) as I want to pass along inventory ideas, recipient responses to gift, requests, etc.

Hopefully, we could do all three in one swoop? I am flexible all day next Monday 3/9 and Tuesday 3/10. Anything on either of those days work for you?

Thank you,

Susan

Hmm. I wondered... I thought maybe I just hadn't been copied on their response.

I will follow-up and revert back.

Thank you.

Hi (b)(6)

I have not heard from anyone in protocol in reply to my email below. I'm holding tomorrow open—hoping that I might meet at least with (b)(6) and either Cam or Mary-Kate. Otherwise, the Madison Dinner progress will be held up another week.

Could you be sure that all three of them received my email and ascertain if tomorrow is even a possibility?

Thank you,

Susan

All,

Circling around to be sure word has traveled. As we're ten days out and no invites issued, Mike wants the March Madison Dinner cancelled. Mike and I will look at the calendar for April Madison Dinner replacement date (due to State Dinner conflict).

Mike would like for me to meet with the three of you about what he wants to the lead time for Madison Dinner invitations to be issued and how those guest lists may be more easily generated, at this point.

Unrelated note to Cam and Mary Kate, I'd like to have 15-20 minutes with you on gifts. Just the three of us. I believe that you may have a couple items to discuss with me?

Then, another 30 minutes, with the protocol gift leadership (and (b)(6) if you're interested) as I want to pass along inventory ideas, recipient responses to gift, requests, etc.

Hopefully, we could do all three in one swoop? I am flexible all day next Monday 3/9 and Tuesday 3/10. Anything on either of those days work for you?

Thank you,

Susan
