In case they need documentation for their records, an updated 1099 is attached, showing no reportable funds.

Hope this helps,

If they need it for their records, then you can certainly send to them. They can discard the one they received. There will be no filing for Freedom Vote from [REDACTED].

Thank you,

Sorry – for clarification, they were not supposed to receive a 1099 so I am to send them this one with the amount listed as “blank”?? Is that correct?

Thanks,

Hi [REDACTED],

I apologize, I have been out of the office.

Please see corrected 1099 attached.

Thank you,

Hi [REDACTED]: Any word on this yet? [REDACTED] is anxious to clear this up – he funded a 501 c 4 organization last year and they have just received a 1099 form from [REDACTED].

Thanks so much!

FYI, [REDACTED] Finance has helped me find someone to answer our questions about the erroneous 1099 Form sent to Freedom Vote. I'll let you know what guidance they provide.

Hi [REDACTED]: I need some guidance for the head of our DC Office on this. He funded a 501 c 4 organization last year and they have just received a 1099 form from [REDACTED]. This is obviously an error. Can we tell them to ignore the form – or is there something further we need to do on our end? [REDACTED] suggests you may know where to direct our question.

Thanks so much,

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

I'd suggest you reach out to [REDACTED] for assistance. [REDACTED] and I are not involved in 1099 form issuances to vendors.

I'd suggest starting with [REDACTED] – he should be able to point you to the right contact person.

Thanks,
