Appendix A

1. May 16, 2026

   - Miller reposted a Mother Jones article about U.S. Representative and candidate for reelection Thomas Massie using his personal X account, which identifies him in its bio as "@WhiteHouse Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47," commenting, "Mother Jones also endorsing Massie. This is like being endorsed by Pravda."

2. May 19, 2026

   - Miller reposted a post urging voters to "Get out and vote against [U.S. Representative and candidate for reelection Thomas Massie] TODAY" using his personal X account, which identifies him in its bio as "@WhiteHouse Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47"

3. May 28, 2026
    - Miller appeared in an interview with Jesse Watters on Fox News
    - Watters introduced Miller as "Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor" at 0:00

- Statements
  - 2:26 - “I think it is very bold, one could even say brave, courageous that the Democratic Party would choose Texas of all places to nominate their first transgender senate candidate who’s clearly transitioning into a female. When Talarico goes in for a blood test when he gets a physical, blood doesn’t come out. Instead, soy milk comes out. This man has less testosterone than [Democratic primary opponent] Jasmine Crockett. It is a mind boggling choice—they would choose a person to run for that office who looks like he doesn't belong in the Senate but in a cabaret show. Look, at the end of the day, I have a hard time believing that the people of Texas … are gonna choose somebody with that much soy to be a U.S. Senator compared to a real conservative patriotic, god-fearing and truly beloved state-wide figure in Ken Paxton.”

4. June 19, 2026
   - Miller appeared in an interview with Sean Hannity on Fox News
   - Hannity introduced him as “Deputy White House Chief for Policy, Homeland Security Advisor” at 0:44

- Statements
    - 0:57 - Hannity showed a clip of Senate candidate Abdul El-Sayed saying that ICE should be abolished and Miller for comment, asking “isn’t that the guy that was out campaigning with Hasan Piker, who said America deserved 9/11?” Miller responded: “Look, the Democrat party… has become a party of marxists, communists, socialists, violent extremists, and, yes, violent revolutionaries who support the policies that are getting Americans killed en masse historically for many years now—and of course, it accelerated under the Biden Administration—by criminal illegal aliens. This is a party that supports violence against ICE officers, supports violence against federal law enforcement and engages in conduct and rhetoric and behavior that leads to repeated assassination attempts against President Trump, against President Trump’s supporters, and against Republican elected officialholders.”
    - 0:57 - “Look, the Democratic party has two groups now: the radical extremists, and cowards. The cowards who have allowed the radical extremists to eat the party alive. Maybe they know on some level that it’s wrong, that it’s evil, that it’s dangerous, that it’s leading to all this incredible violence against conservatives that we’ve seen. Maybe they’re just too stupid they don’t know that.”
    - 4:11 - “All I can say about Talarico is that Texas is not going to elect an individual— I can’t call him a man, who knows what gender he is— but they’re not going to elect an individual, an entity who has said the thing that he loves most in the whole world is trans children. He’s a weird, strange, bizarre, totally unelectable human who is never, ever, ever going to be the Senator from the great state of Texas.”

- 4:53 - “So historically the challenge with midterm elections has been the President is not on the ballot. And we all know that Donald Trump is the Republican Party. And when Donald Trump is on the ballot, what happens, Sean? Republicans win up and down the ballot, they win the House, they win the Senate, they win deep in purple territory, they win deep in blue territory, they break and smash the blue wall. Our job between now and election day is to make sure that Republicans are motivated, determined and committed to coming out and supporting their President, and at the same time, the American people, including independents, including normal Democrats, including Reagan Democrats understand what you and I discussed tonight, which is how dangerous, extreme, and, yes, violent the Democrat Party has become.”

5. June 23, 2026
    - Miller appeared in an interview with Sean Hannity on Fox News
    - Hannity introduced him as “Deputy White House Chief of Staff and Homeland Security Advisor” at 1:13

    - Statements
        - 2:31 - “And we’ve seen in every single race where there is an open Democrat primary, the radical left base of the Democrat Party is electing the most socialist, the most communist, the most lunatic candidates, the most fringe candidates that possibly exist. Every one of them. Against cops, against ICE, against border patrol, against borders, against jails, for every crazy trans idea, against every single tenet of traditional American values, principles, religion, God. All of it. I mean, you saw this quote from Talarico today where he says he hates Christianity. These are the candidates that they are running, Sean. So President Trump in a very real and very literal sense, is the man, is the leader, standing in the gap, in the breach, protecting this nation from this tyrannical wave of left wing insanity."

- 4:19 - "Over time, the Democrat Party has abandoned all of that and has instead adopted this radical, revolutionary and in many cases violent ideology that wants to tear America down and destroy everything that we know and love from top to bottom, right? Living in a state of total anarchy without police, without law enforcement where criminals can rape and maim and murder with impunity where your kids are taught from the age of two to hate America, to hate their God, to hate their parents, to hate their family, to even hate their own gender. That's their agenda. And no, you cannot have a middle ground with that. Ultimately, what President Trump is doing, and what he is leading, is an America first movement that says 'we need Democrats to come vote for us, to leave that insanity, because ultimately that's just a death knell for America."

- 5:59 - In response to Hannity's question about how Democratic socialist candidates will affect the midterm election, he said, "Ultimately, that's the communication challenge that we all have together, Sean, which is to explain to the American people that Democrats you grew up with, the Democrats that your mom and dad grew up with, the Democrats that your grandma and grandpa grew up with, do not exist anymore at all. Not at any level of government. A vote for any Democrat anywhere for any office is a vote for empowering a party that wants to strip this country to the bone, to take away our security, our defense, our way of life."

- 7:00 - "But they're all like this, look at [Senate candidate] Roy Cooper in North Carolina. He released murderers and killers and rapists. So this is a choice about defending you and your family. A vote for Republicans and Trump is literally a vote to protect the lives of the people you love most in this whole world, Sean."

6. June 27, 2026

- Miller reposted a post from the RNC related to James Talarico with his personal X account, which identifies him in its bio as "@WhiteHouse Deputy

Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47," writing, "Talarico campaign leaning into claims their candidate is transgender."

7. June 29, 2026

- Miller appeared in an interview with Laura Ingraham on Fox News
- Ingraham introduced him as "White House Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy" at 0:00

- Statements
    - 1:06 - Ingraham asked, “What is this gonna mean for the midterms, in your view, given the number of states that this affects?” Miller answered, “Well, it could be potentially extremely damaging. In other words, if you have a situation as we saw in California with Spencer Pratt in Los Angeles where every single day ballots continue to tilt the election in ever more improbable, and ultimately impossible, ways, then we don’t have a democracy. We have no faith in our election system. We have no faith in our ability to count the ballots. We have 53 Republican senators, and I know everybody says, ‘this senator won’t vote for it, that senator won’t vote for it.’ It’s because there’s no consequence on them, Laura, for not doing so.”
    - 1:52 - After Ingraham noted that Sens. Thom Tillis and Bill Cassidy would not be returning to office, Miller said, “they all have a life that they want after the Senate. They all have foundations they want to be a part of. Corporate boards they want to be a part of. And the ones that are still there are committee chairpersons. They’re committee chairwomen. You need to have a situation where if you want to be in Republican politics, you have to understand it is a team sport. And one more point on this, Laura, this is existential for this country. You’ve covered more than anybody. When the Democrats, if the Democrats, should the Democrats regain power, it’s game over. Twelve more justices on SCOTUS. Two new Democrat states. They’re gonna get rid of the Second Amendment, they’re gonna get rid of our borders, they’re gonna get rid of our police, they’re gonna get rid of ICE, border patrol, DHS, and they’re gonna elect communists. Like actual communists, Laura, not even socialists, communists who will wreck this country.”

8. August 5, 2026
    - Miller appeared in an interview with Sean Hannity on Fox News
    - Hannity introduced him as “Deputy White House Chief of Staff, Homeland Security Advisor” at 0:17

    - Statements
        - 0:40 - Hannity asked whether Democratic Socialist candidates can win in the general elections and Miller responded: “Well I think they’re going to be severely challenged come November as they continue to nominate these true communist candidates. Look at Michigan, El-Sayed. The center of this country, the middle of this country, the mainstream of this country is going to thunderously reject Democrats’ embrace of communism. With El-Sayed you also have somebody… who campaigned, who embraced, who courted the endorsement of this execrable, heinous, deplorable, monstrous Hasan Piker, somebody who has celebrated assassination culture and somebody who has said that America deserved 9/11…to have someone running for Senate who is going to associate with that kind of evil…”
        - 2:15 - “We spent decades fighting a Cold War with the Soviet Union…that Cold War has come home. It’s here in America. This is the biggest, greatest, most existential struggle this country will ever face, Sean, because if communists get control of House seats, then Senate seats, and governors’ mansions, the American dream that for 250 years our heroes bled and died for is gone, and it won’t come back because they will never let you get it back. President Trump is the only thing right now standing between the American people and that abyss.”

9. August 7, 2026
    - Miller appeared in an interview with Laura Ingraham on Fox News
    - Ingraham introduced Miller about "White House Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy" at 0:04

    - Statements
        - 0:20 - Ingraham asked Miller, "but what's the truth about where this leads and what the president is going to do from now until November to bring this home?" and Miller answered, "Where does it lead? The answer is look at the countries around the world that have the system of government that Democrats want. It leads to Haiti. It leads to Somalia. It leads to a failed third world state. Look what Democrats have done in the cities they control right now."
        - 1:20 - "You don't have to use your imagination. You mentioned abolish prisons. That is part of their platform. Right now, the Democrat Party, the DSA, they want to abolish prisons. Think about what that means. Rapists, murderers, child predators, set free to offend and reoffend and reoffend again."
        - 1:56 - "And here's the other thing, Laura, to keep in mind, there is going to be one group of people they will put in jail. They will put in jail their political opposition. Good communists and good socialists, they don't want police officers to put hardened criminals in jail, they want police and law enforcement to exist only for putting their political opposition in jail."

- 2:26 - Ingraham asked Miller about President Trump's interview with Punchbowl News, saying that "they were on this narrative that he was basically giving the middle finger to Republicans in the midterms, which is the most ridiculous thing I've ever heard, but they pressed him about whether the base without him on the ballot will turn out." She then a played a clip of Trump saying, "If I don't run, will those people go out and vote, and that's the one thing I can't tell - I'm going to ask them to. The question is will they vote because a lot of them are very angry at Republicans" but not him. Ingraham asked about news outlets showing polls that say "voters are angry at Trump. The Democrats are motivated to vote against Trump and only 44% of Republicans say they're motivated to vote for Trump in the midterms. Are you buying that?" Miller answered at 3:24, "where do I even begin with this. So, let's start here, nobody has done more to rebuild and save the Republican Party than Donald Trump since Abraham Lincoln himself. President Trump inherited a broken shell, a hollowed out husk of a political party after the Bush years, after the Ryan years, after the sellout years, and he turned it into the working class party, the middle class party. And he took states that had been blue forever. He took the blue wall, he took states like Wisconsin, states like Ohio, states like Pennsylvania, he pulverized that blue wall. How many Senate races have we seen where President Trump won a state by eight points, nine points, ten points, eleven points, and it was just enough to bring along the Republican senator by half a point or a point to build that Senate Republican majority. How many Senate candidates has he dragged along to victory? And how many RINOs has he forced out of the party to elect real working class, populist Republicans. People like, for example, Eric Schmitt, who represent the future of the Republican Party where it is today. President Trump has raised more money for Republican candidates than any human in history. He has more enthusiasm and support from Republican voters than any candidate in history. I could keep going, Laura, the reality is as he said, President Trump is dead on right here, (4:52) what this comes down to is the Trump voter needs to show up in the midterms. It's about transferring the enthusiasm that the working class has, that real Americans have for President Trump, and turning that into midterm voters. That's the entire battle coming up here."

- 5:10 - Ingraham asked if Trump was going to do rallies in Michigan and other states as he did in other midterm election cycles, and Miller said "I'm sure that he will. And, of course, he's already been campaigning all over the country, as has his cabinet. And of course, he's hosting the first ever midterm convention. We're having a conversation about President Trump's enthusiasm in the midterms, for the first time in history, he's hosting a midterm convention. President Trump is the north star of the Republican Party and it all comes down to transferring that enthusiasm, that love that people have for President Trump into our candidates for the House and Senate."

10. August 14, 2026

- Miller appeared in an interview with Sean Hannity on Fox News
- Hannity introduced Miller as "Deputy White House Chief of Staff and Homeland Security Advisor" at 0:00

- Statements
  - 0:05 - Hannity began: "I want you to pick up on this and then I want you to look at six gender Talarico. Allegations of a vile temper, throwing water bottles, the guy running against Susan Collins in Maine. Then you've got the situation with El-Sayed and his BFF, Hasan Piker, – America deserved 9/11, the streets of America should run red with the blood of capitalists and landlords. Guy that praises dictators like Mao and others. And far worse, I've played these things over and over again. How is it possible that somebody that is best friends with that guy can get the nomination in Michigan? Can he get elected? Can the guy in Maine get elected? Can six gender Talarico, God is nonbinary, championing the rights of men to play women's sports. Can he win in Texas?" Miller responded at 1:00, "Well, in Texas, you have a candidate in Talarico who is against Christianity, he's against meat, he's against oil and gas, and he's in favor of men in women's sports. So, that has about, I think, what, a one percent approval rating in the state of Texas? Let's talk about something deadly serious in Michigan. To campaign with, to embrace friendship with, to court the endorsement of Hasan Piker, who has supported the 9/11 attacks. When you say America deserved 9/11, what you are saying is that you support Osama bin Laden and you support the al Qaeda 9/11 attacks. That's what you're saying. So, for the Democrat Party to nominate somebody who has associated themselves with somebody who supports the 9/11 attacks, says everything that you need to know about how far the Democrat Party has fallen in the world today, Sean. It is to the ever lasting shame of Schumer and the Senate Democrats that they have not repudiated and renounced the Michigan Senate candidate for his association with this ideology of evil."

- 2:33 - Hannity listed off a list of negative things that he said was the Democrats' "agenda," and at 3:12, Miller responded, "You just listed everything and there's so much more, Sean. This is a struggle for the survival of America. It's that serious, it's that real. What you talked about—abolishing police, abolishing borders, abolishing ICE, abolishing fossil fuels, gutting the Department of War—these actions collectively would bring America to its knees. It would cripple us. It would crush us. It would destroy everything 250 years of patriots fought, bled and died for. The people at home—everything that makes your life better, Donald Trump is delivering on and fighting for... issue after issue, President Trump is fighting for our families and what do they want to do? They want to hand over our nation to illegal aliens, criminals, jihadists, and communists. This isn't the old debates we used to have twenty, thirty years ago, Sean. Where we said, 'oh do you want taxes at 30 percent or 33 percent.' This is a debate between people who fundamentally hate America, hate Americans and want to sell this country to their friends for scraps. That's how real this is. (4:39) When you nominate candidates who say that they want the endorsement of individuals who support 9/11, this is a party that's fundamentally committed to the destruction of America, at a basic, basic level."

11. August 19, 2026

- Miller appeared in an interview (viewable here and in subsequent videos displayed to the right) with Sean Hannity on Fox News
- Hannity introduced Miller as "Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy" at 0:16

- Statements
  - 0:44 - Hannity said, “These are unchartered waters, this is the most radicalized party that I’ve ever seen in my lifetime, and that says a lot. Also, the Republicans have something, also thanks to Donald Trump, that they’ve never had before, leading into a midterm, it’s called money. And we never had a midterm Republican convention. I think it’s a great idea. Tell the story to America cause the media won’t help. They are the, basically, apparatus of the left wing in this country. They won’t even call out the crazy, you know, democratic socialist communists.” At 0:18, Miller responded, “You know, the biggest news story of our time right now, Sean, is the socialist, communist takeover of the Democrat Party. You’ve gone through the list before. A political party that wants to abolish prisons and jails, that wants to abolish the border, abolish ICE, defund, dismantle and destroy law enforcement. And as you just mentioned, Sean, they release illegal alien criminals who are raping and murdering innocent Americans. This is a political party unworthy of power and they must be exposed. And that’s what’s going to happen at the midterm convention, Sean.”

12. August 21, 2026

- Miller appeared in an interview with Will Cain on Fox News
- Cain introduced Miller as “White House Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy” at 2:34

- Statements
    - 7:48 - After a long discussion of "socialism," Miller said: "If they were socialists under a kind of America first model, it would still be a failed ideology, it still wouldn't work in pure market terms, but then you would have somebody like Sherrod Brown who would then say, 'I'm opposed to immigration, I'm opposed to open borders, I'm opposed to DEI,' right? 'I want to redistribute wealth from the capital to the labor class within our own communities. Instead, a guy like Sherrod Brown votes for every single open borders bill that has ever been presented in the history of Congress. He will gladly, if you're an electrical worker, he will gladly give your job to any foreign worker plucked from anywhere in the world willing to do it for ten, twenty percent less. This is the point, it's completely pretextual. If you think, dear Republican, if Ilhan Omar's views about wealth and capital comes from a patriotic place and is a sincere market view, no, no, no, it is an intellectual mask, a cover, to take from you. The Democrat party has stitched together a coalition of tribal grievances. What makes the West very unique and special in the whole history of the world is the idea of sublimating your own self-interest for the sake of your neighbors in a completely voluntary and cooperative way. That's very rare and very unique."
    - 9:40 - Cain paraphrased Miller's message as saying that "Today's socialism is actually not even worried about class systems, it's not worried about labor versus capital, it's only worried about tribes and using socialism as the mask to redistribute within tribes." Miller said at 9:53: "Correct, the Democrats, there's two groups basically. You have people like Chuck Schumer and people like Sherrod Brown, who have made a completely amoral, cold-blooded political calculation, and then you have the actual tribal interest groups themselves. Again, Ilhan Omar's the best example of this, Rashida Tlaib, Abdul in Michigan, who they're using this as an intellectual cover as a way to put a veneer on this purely tribalistic calculation. So, again, what unifies islamists and leftists because normally you wouldn't think, 'how is that a logical political coalition?' It is because they're both in agreement about taking away from the group of people who built this country over many, many generations, right? Versus the migrant who comes here, and says, 'I owe you an allegiance because of everything you've done and everything you have built to support that system. And that's what's created, very tragically, Will, in this country, this existential weight on our political outcomes. Because once politics is tribalized it becomes an all or nothing game. What we had in America for many generations, was so special and unique, because it wasn't an all or nothing game. But once it becomes tribalized, then the stakes become existential and you're not able to appeal to your opponent based on pure reason because pure reason appeals assume there's a shared end state. When there isn't a shared end state, then it just becomes completely binary, and that's one of the saddest things that's happened in American politics over previous years that brought up to this point."

13. August 28, 2026

- Miller appeared in an interview with Laura Ingraham on Fox News
- Ingraham introduced Miller as "White House Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy" at 0:00

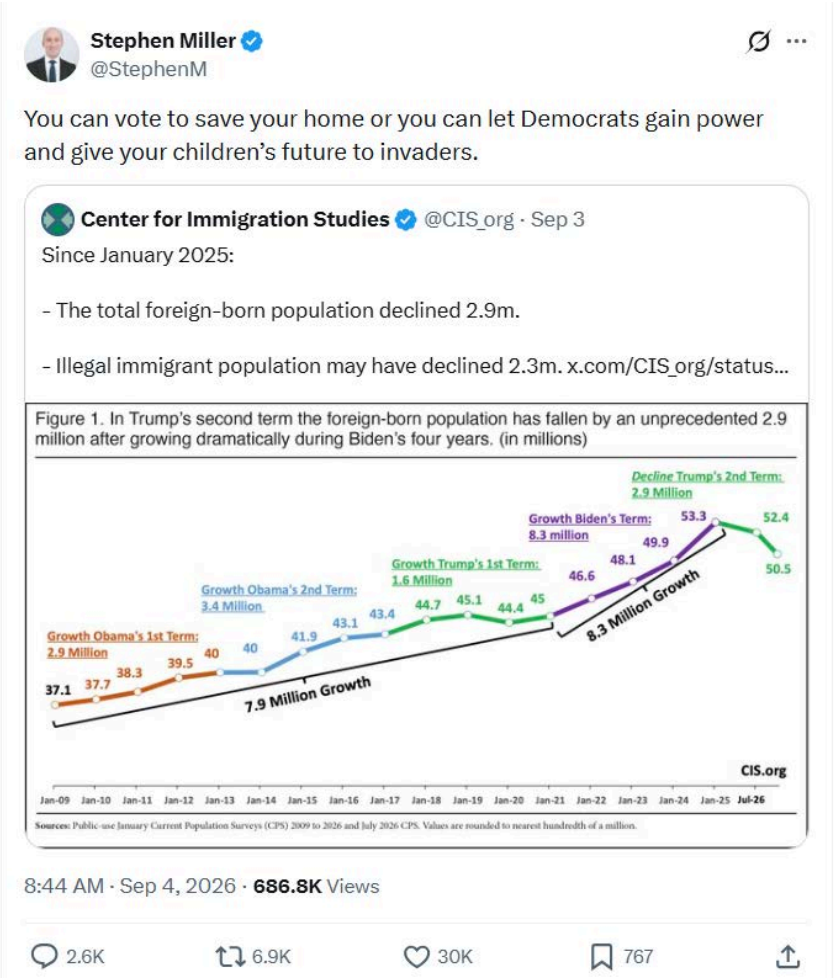

- Statements
  - 0:00 - After criticizing "Democrats" and their messaging around immigration, Ingraham asked Miller what "his message is to Americans tonight, who don't kind of know which to turn on this?" Miller responded: "Well, my message to Americans tonight is, you lived for four years in a hell of open borders under Democrat control. You don't have to imagine what the Democrat immigration policy is. You lived through that nightmare before President Trump came into office."

- 1:32 - "In cases like you mentioned in Texas, where you had two illegal aliens from Venezuela, Tren de Aragua, they were apprehended at the border by Democrats, and following the policies of people like James Talafreako, they were set free, and they grabbed a beautiful, innocent, 12-year old Texas girl and subjected her to horrors that I dare not even name and murdered her in cold blood. And Talafreako doesn't say her name, doesn't give a damn about what happened to her, and would gladly do it again and again and again. He's made that clear because he calls ICE kidnappers. He calls removal facilities detention camps. He is using the language that you use to justify violence against ICE. Let's remember, it was in Texas just last year that an assassin from a sniper's perch tried to kill and murder our brave ICE agents using the exact same language and rhetoric as Talafreako. The case that you mentioned, this is a repeat illegal entrant who voluntarily self-deported and took his own child back home with him. What is Talafreako saying, that we are supposed to separate families, that we shouldn't let Mexican families live in Mexico with their own children?"
- 4:54 - "Here's one more point in this, when you're talking about children the Biden administration helped traffic 500,000 children across that border. Many murdered, many raped, many sold into slavery, labor trafficked, sex trafficked, probably the greatest crime that has ever occurred in volume against children. Those are the policies of Talafreako and the Democrat Party."

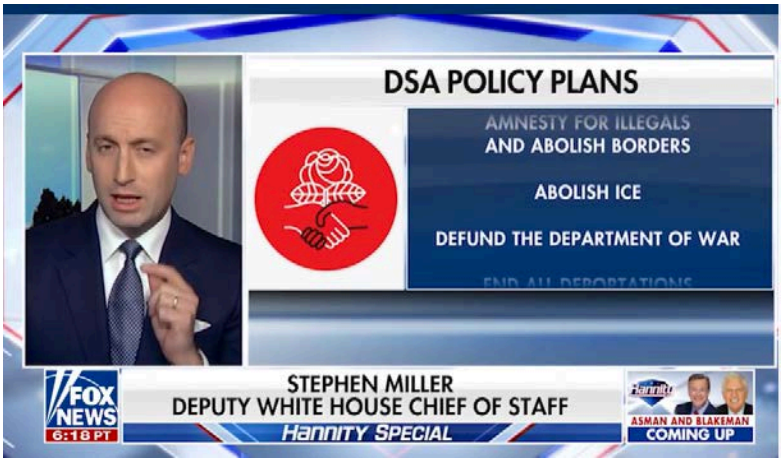

14. September 4, 2026

- Miller reposted a post about immigrant population levels with his personal X account, which identifies him in its bio as "@WhiteHouse Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47," writing, "You can vote to save your home or you can let Democrats gain power and give your children's future to invaders."

15. September 11, 2026

- Miller appeared in an interview with Sean Hannity on Fox News
- Hannity introduced Miller as "Deputy White House Chief of Staff and Homeland Security Advisor" at 1:20 and the video description similarly calls him "Deputy White House chief of staff for policy Stephen Miller"

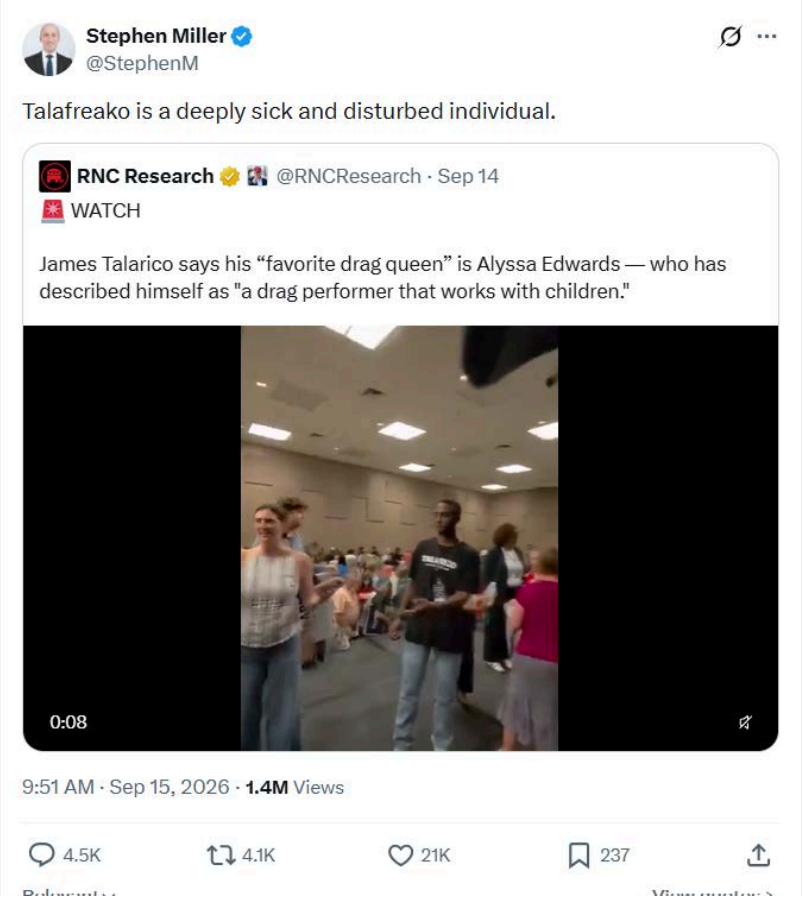

- 1:25 - Hannity said, “Stephen, we’ve got an election in 53 days. Since 2019, we’ve had 250 DSA members that have been elected. We have over 40 of them, like El-Sayed on the ballot in Michigan. What their stated, printed agenda is, it’s on their website, defund the Department of War, they also want amnesty for illegals to abolish borders, no more deportations, etc. They don’t even want – they want to abolish prisons, police, cash bail, never mind where they stand on shredding the Constitution by eliminating the Senate, packing the courts, eliminating our ability to pick a president, and, of course, cradle to grave Green New Deal. Department of War? How naive and stupid can these people be? To me, they want to fundamentally shred every bit of what made this country the great country it is. That to me is what’s on the ballot in 53 days.” At 2:28, Miller answered: “That’s exactly what is on the ballot, Sean, as the president outlined in his address at the convention yesterday, and the day before. The Democrat Party has embraced the platform of individuals who fundamentally hate America and hate Americans. You and I have talked about this before. Abdul El-Sayed in Michigan campaigned with, sought the endorsement of and promoted, along with Bernie Sanders, a man named Hasan Piker who is the new consultant and strategist of the Democrat Party. He is the man they are leaning on to choose their policies to get support for their candidates. Hasan Piker said that America and Americans deserved 9/11. Sean, you and I have seen, and we can never erase the memory, the videos of Americans leaping to their deaths from the towers to escape certain death by fire, flame and smoke. We’ve heard the stories of people making their final phone calls from the twin towers, from those airplanes. (3:48) A political party that gets into bed with, that finds common cause with, that joins in concert with a man who says they had it coming and they deserved it is a party that in a country of conscience should get zero votes. Zero votes, Sean. I can’t believe we’re having this conversation 25 years after 9/11, and you have Democrats preaching hatred for America and pledging to abolish law enforcement. Sean, if you abolish ICE, that means terrorists have free reign to get into America and maim and murder Americans. Our enemies all over the world are trying to slip in through our airports, slip in through our borders, slip in through our visa programs, every day to murder Americans. ICE and CBP are the front lines keeping America safe. The Democrat Party fundamentally has sided with the jihadists in the war on terror. That's where we are right now."

- 4:49 - Hannity said, "Maybe your Senate candidate or your House candidate is not as radical in speech as Abdul El-Sayed or James Talarico or Troy Jackson. Maybe not. However, there's a phenomenon that's going on. There's not a single elected Democrat but for John Fetterman that is willing to take them on, so maybe Sherrod Brown doesn't speak the language of Abdul El-Sayed and Talarico. Maybe Jon Ossoff doesn't. However, are they going to stand up against them? Because as of today not one elected Democrat, but for one, you know, has had the willingness, the courage, the moral clarity to do so. So you might as well be voting for El-Sayed if you vote for Sherrod Brown or Jon Ossoff or any of the people in the Democratic Party." At 5:39, Miller answered:"That's the key point, Sean. If you vote for one, you vote for them all. Sherrod Brown has never stood up to Chuck Schumer and the Democrats in his entire career because Sherrod Brown is a spineless coward. And Ossoff is a spineless coward. They cower to and cater to the extremist element in their party. And a political party that wants to abolish ICE, defund police, abolish CBP, abolish border patrol, is saying come and get us, jihadists. That's your choice this election. Choose wisely, America. Choose safety, security. Choose America first."

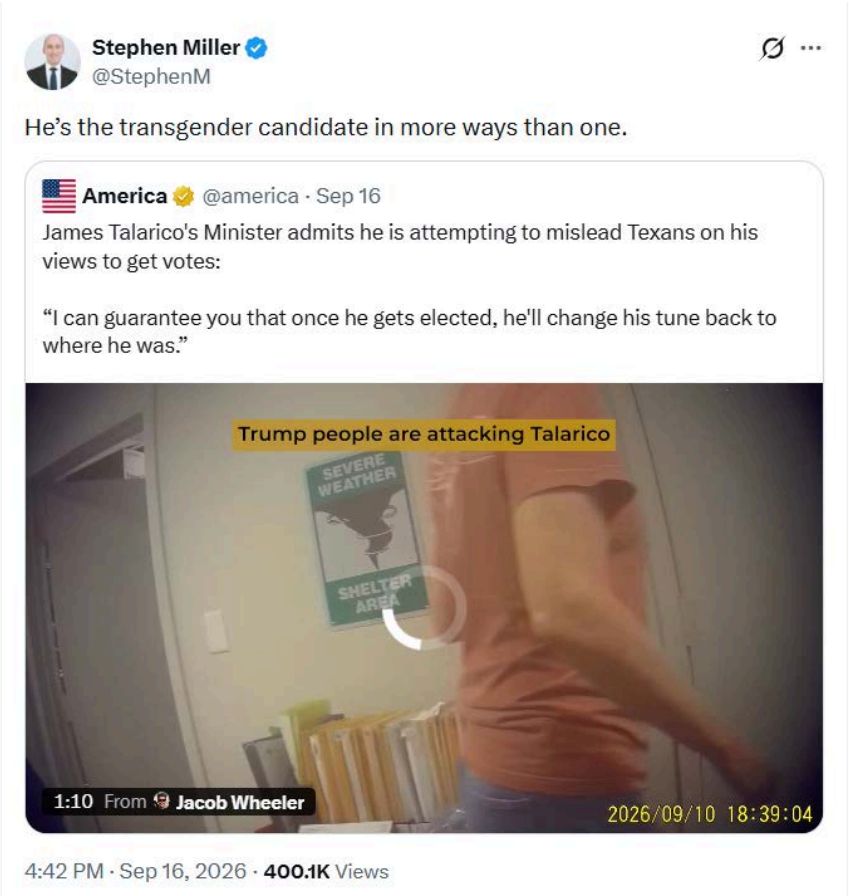

16. September 15, 2026

- Miller reposted a post from the RNC related to James Talarico with his personal X account, which identifies him in its bio as "@WhiteHouse Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47," writing, "Talafreako is a deeply sick and disturbed individual."

17. September 16, 2026

- Miller reposted a post from Elon Musk’s super PAC related to James Talarico with his personal X account, which identifies him in its bio as “@WhiteHouse Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47,” writing, “He’s the transgender candidate in more ways than one.”

18. September 18, 2026

- Miller appeared in an [interview] with Sean Hannity on Fox News
- Hannity does not verbally introduce Miller in the clip posted to the Fox News website, but Miller is identified on the video clip's web page as "White House deputy chief of staff for policy" and was identified in the on screen as pictured below

- 0:21 - Hannity asked, “So what do you say to people that, ‘ooh, I don’t like my congressman.’ If they don’t support the DSA agenda, we need their vote. That’s my statement. What do you say?” Miller answered at 0:32: “You’re exactly right, Sean. In America today, in the year 2026, there’s only two choices. There is President Trump, America first, Make America Great Again, border security, low taxes, public safety, great schools, great homes, great communities, winning the race of the technology of the future, a strong national defense, a strong military, national security, and taking care of our own people. And then you have the Democrat socialists and communists, who truly want to rip America apart, every nut, every bolt, every part of this country, strip it bare. This is a party that wants to defund police, defund law enforcement. Let’s be very clear. This is not hyperbole. Every Democrat, except John Fetterman, in the House and Senate, voted repeatedly to defund ICE and border patrol. They voted to open up our borders to every terrorist, every pedophile, every gang member, every monster on the face of the Earth. This is not exaggeration.”

- 2:23 - “Their policies aren’t just wrong, Sean. Their policies are evil. I wish it weren’t true. It is. You cannot sit on the sidelines when we are trying to save this country from an agenda that is sinister and wicked and morally indefensible. You have to get up, you have to get out, you have to participate because at the end of the day, if you’re not going to support President Trump and support the Republican ticket, you’re going to go back to the policies of record inflation, record illegal immigration, and record murder. We don’t want that. No sane American wants that, Sean.”

- 3:45 - After describing an interview with a parent whose son was killed by an immigrant, Hannity gave Miller “the last word.” Miller stated, “How can you not feel anything Sean other than righteous anger. There’s a lot of talking points, right? There’s a lot of showmanship in Washington, DC when you look at committee hearings and everything else. But cut that all away, get to the bone, get to the heart of the issue, Sean. These are real mothers, real fathers, whose kids were murdered, brutally, viciously murdered, by illegal aliens who had no right to be here. They didn't belong here. They aren't American. They have no right. They're trespassing in our country and Biden and the Democrats, and every Democrat in the House and Senate voted to let them in. They knew these kids would get murdered. They knew these children would get raped. And they didn't care. (4:33) How can you vote for that? How can you support that? Look at the images from a few years ago. Millions of people streaming across the border. The Biden administration sent forklifts to rip up fence from Texas to let them in. And now kids are dead. Now their parents, the only place they can go to see their children is a cemetery. And you're going to sit out this election? President Trump, what he did on that border and in our cities with his Homeland Security Task Force, with his public safety initiatives, with drug seizures at the border is saving tens, and ultimately, hundreds of thousands of lives. That's what we're doing, Sean."

This election is the clearest choice you will ever have, Stephen Miller says

White House deputy chief of staff for policy Stephen Miller says the Democratic Party is 'coast to coast' made up of DSA candidates and cowards who won't condemn them on 'Hannity.'

White House deputy chief of staff for policy Stephen Miller criticizes the Democratic Party's embrace of DSA candidates and argues that Democrats are failing to clearly reject them. He says the party is 'coast to coast' made up of DSA candidates and politicians who won't condemn them on 'Hannity.'

- 1:04 - Hannity asked Miller for his “take” on Mayor Mamdani's statement on the anniversary of the October 7 attack. Miller responded: “Fundamentally, Sean, what we’re dealing with here is a Democrat Party from coast to coast that is embracing jihadism.”

- 1:41 - "Then you have Abdul El-Sayed, in Michigan, a candidate who campaigned with Hasan Piker, an openly pro-terrorist, pro-jihad, anit-American extremist who celebrated 9/11. You have in Minnesota an entire statewide political leadership system— Waltz, Klobuchar, the whole state, Keith Ellison— that continued to shield, protect, harbor, and support the radicalized members of the Somali refuge community even on the heels of the FBI stopping what would have been a mass-casualty terrorist attack by a Somali ISIS supporter at the Mall of America. (2:30) You have a Democrat Party, at every single level, that refuses to side with the American military and the American president, the American government, in combat operations against the Iranian regime, which has spread death, terror, destruction all over the world. And you also have a Democrat Party that continues to support Islamist jihad migration into every part of this country... (3:20) The Democrat Party has become, Sean, a jihad party."

- 3:24 - Hannity brought up several Democratic candidates—El-Sayed, Talarico, Annie Andrews, Adam Hamilton, Sherrod Brown, and Angie Nixon—and asked whether this would become a “referendum election" on the influence of "radicals" in the Democratic Party. At 4:04, Miller answered: "Yes, well, I mean you've heard President Trump say, 'Chuck Schumer's become a Palestinian. That's where we're at right now. The Democratic Party has only two kinds of people in it, in Washington today. You have Democrat socialist extremists that support jihad, open borders, abolish jails, abolish prisons, abolish ICE, abolish border patrol, abolish free markets, abolish fossil fuels, abolish capitalism, and you have the cowards like Schumer, like former Senator [Sherrod] Brown, who will do whatever they are told to do, they are ordered to do by AOC [Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez] and [Pramila] Jayapal, and [Abdul El-]Sayed, and every other person in that crazy, dangerous clown car that is the Democrat Party. And when you talk about this being from coast to coast, it's the House candidates, it's the Senate candidates, mayoral candidates, gubernatorial candidates. At every single level of the Democrat Party, they're running candidates who embrace jihadism, who embrace open borders, and who oppose law enforcement."

- 5:04 - He invited viewers to “compare that to the pro-American Trump agenda,” and asserted "this is the clearest choice you will ever have."

20. October 8, 2026

- Miller reposted an NBC News post about James Talarico being off the campaign trail for 12 days due to the flu with his personal X account, which identifies him in its bio as "@WhiteHouse Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47," writing, "Whatever the real story is must be quite terrible."

22. October 10, 2026

- Miller appeared in an interview with Lara Trump on Fox News
- Trump did not verbally introduce Miller in the clip online (part of a pre-taped interview that aired on Trump's Saturday show), but Fox News' video description identifies Miller as “White House chief of staff for policy Stephen Miller” and his title appears on screen as pictured below

- 0:04 - Trump asked “Where are you guys in terms of these midterm elections from the White House perspective?” Miller answered by talking about what he views as the Trump administration’s achievements “over the last two years.”
- 2:08 - Trump said, “And now we’re headed to these midterms. Everyone talks about the polling. What do you think can be done between now and November 3rd to convey all of that great information to the American people?” Miller answered: “The purpose of publishing these suppression polls, it’s designed to demoralize people, to convince people that it’s not worth continuing to fight, to save and rescue their country.” He then went on to attack Democrats for opposing Trump and his policies.
- 6:33 - Trump said, “I want you to give an idea, though, to the American people right now about what would happen should the Democrats get what they want, which is to take over the majorities in the House and the Senate. What would America look like if that were to happen?” At 6:48, Miller replied, “One of the first things Democrats will do if they gain power is they will attempt to shut down the Department of Homeland Security again and bleed this nation’s security apparatus dry for the singular purpose of bringing in millions of illegal immigrants into your towns and your communities, and where you live. (7:02) Secondly, they will block any and all extensions of the Trump tax cuts to achieve a historic tax hike. And so you will pay more every single year to the IRS and, of course, they’ll block President Trump’s plan for a $5,000 Trump dividend, which can only happen if Republicans are in control of Congress. On public safety, they will wage unrelenting war on law enforcement. Instant release, no cash bail, cutting police departments, cutting the funding for federal law enforcement across the board. Obviously they'll bring back the Green New Scam and do everything humanly possible to grind the coal industry, the oil industry, and the gas industry to a crippling halt. They will block every single program that President Trump has to rebuild and to strengthen the American military. They will also try to bring back, of course, men in women sports, diversity, equity and inclusion policies, and all of the crazy woke nonsense that we had to live with for four years."

- 8:00 - "At the end of the day, the question that you have to ask yourself is, can you morally align yourself with a political party that thinks that the rights of illegal alien rapists are more important than American children. If you want the West to end, if you want the American experiment to end, if you want to have a society crumble and collapse because it's led by people who hate it, that's all the Democrats can offer. The politics of self-hatred, self-loathing, and self-destruction. If you believe in the golden age, if you believe that America's best days are still ahead, there's only one choice that you have to make, and that's to support the Republican Party this November."

- Miller appeared in an interview with Sean Hannity on Fox News
- Hannity introduced Miller as "White House Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy, Homeland Security Advisor" at 0:00

- 0:05 - Hannity asked Miller for his "assessment" of how "they" (presumably Democratic candidates) are not "stick[ing] by the DSA platform" but are lying and saying the opposite of what they had said previously, and whether "they" will "get away with that." At 0:21, Miller answered, "No, they're not going to get away with it. And part of what President Trump is doing with his historic, barnstorming tour across the country is putting the words, the records, the comments, the histories, and the votes of these extremist candidates before the American people. Sean, this is the most radical, crazy, lunatic, maniac group of candidates ever to run for federal office. Look at El-Sayed in Michigan. His own sister says their family are part of the Muslim Brotherhood, the radical jihadist organization that spawned islamic terrorism. In other words, that is the group that is the forebearer to the islamic terrorism that has spread all across the Middle East and the world, including al Qaeda. (1:10) So, you have a Manchurian candidate running in Michigan. Somebody whose allegiance is not to this country, but to jihadist violence and extremism, who will not condemn the most vile acts and the most violent organizations in the world. Somebody who brought Hasan Piker, who invited him, who courted him, who said that America deserves 9/11. Someone who's called for defunding and disarming police, abolishing ICE. How can you be loyal to America if you want to abolish ICE, abolish border patrol and abolish Customs and Border Protection? (1:48) That is somebody who favors the world over America and as your previous guest said, Mike Rogers [El-Sayed's electoral opponent], he's someone who said we owe it to the world to have open borders. That is disloyalty to Americans. Then you have Talafreako, who has said there's six genders, who hates Christianity, and who, by the way, spent the last ten years railing against ICE and border patrol."

- 2:13 - Hannity asked if Miller believed "New York, Minnesota, and states like Oregon are in play? Are you worried that the polls are close in places like Iowa, and Ohio, and Texas, the polling having, I've never seen such horrific polling as we have seen this year. Thoughts?" At 2:34, Miller responded, "What's happening right now is actually a huge opportunity for the GOP as you see the map expanding into places like you mention. Michigan historically has been a blue state. Mike Rogers is doing incredibly well. Minnesota's in play. You see Blakeman running an incredible campaign in New York. At the end of the day, and you have President Trump, again, this unprecedented tour to rally and bring out the vote, as no one has ever done before. (2:59) To make sure that Trump supporters, that MAGA voters know to get out and vote in these midterms, to pretend that President Trump is on the ballot. At the end of the day, and you've covered this better than anyone, Sean, it comes down to turnout and enthusiasm. (3:13) If you want to keep these freaks out of office, these crazy communists, you've got to show up and vote, you've got to fight for your children, you've got to fight to save this country you love."

Sullivan on his X personal account, which identifies him in its bio as "@WhiteHouse Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy and Homeland Security Advisor | 45 & 47"
- He commented: "One of the biggest election scandals in history has been the Democrats' installation of a fake Dan Sullivan (not the US Senator) to deceive voters in Alaska. The corrupt media of course is not outraged at the lawless election manipulation but the effort to protect the lawful rights of Alaska voters. If a fake Republican Abdul Mohammed El-Sayed was ticket splitting with the real Muslim Brotherhood Abdul Mohammed El-Sayed the media would be apoplectic and the courts would fix the ballot. It cannot be defended which is why the media refuses to discuss what the lawsuit is actually about."

- Statements

- 11:48:13 - “President Trump, since he came down that golden escalator, has saved America. He’s saved America from a corrupt political class. He saved America from open borders. He saved America from countries that want the American way of life to end. From foreign adversaries to domestic adversaries. President Trump took a bullet for you. He bled for you. He faced life in prison for you. Now what he needs from you tomorrow is your vote. Your vote to keep producing American energy. Your vote to keep our border secure. Your vote to keep crime, violent crime and murder at all time record lows. Your vote to keep men out of women’s sports. To keep DEI out of our universities. To keep your taxes low. Not tax on tips, no tax on social security, no tax on overtime.” At 11:49:00, “and to keep our military stronger than it’s ever been before. To keep the American dream alive for you and your children. That is up against a party – you gave the perfect comparison. Haley Stevens vs. Hasan Piker. The Democrat Party has said they don’t want moderates. They don’t want centrists like Haley Stevens. They do want extremist, pro-jihad, Amerrica-hating, 9/11-supporting monsters like Hasan Piker. Do not force your children to grow up in a country ruled and governed by people like Hasan Piker who literally celebrate the murder of innocent Americans. That is not who we are as a country. That is never who can become. President Trump loves America. He loves this nation and he delivered more for us in two years than any president has in four or eight years.”
